The secretary was instructed to get in touch with Mr. L. F. Clary, of Calgary, and endeavor to have him get Mr. Brockington to be the speaker at the public meeting.

An account is to be opened in the name of the Canadian Club in the Royal Bank when funds become available.

The chairman, Major Lewis, requested the secretary to interview Mr. J. O. Cantelon regarding music to be supplied by the band during the public meeting of Feb. 22nd.

Since the meeting, definite word has been received that Lieut. General Sir A. C. MacDonnell of Calgary will be speaker for the evening on Feb. 22nd.

MRS. HERMAN HOERLE

The death at Arrowwood on Wednesday night, Feb. 1st, of Mrs. Herman Hoerle of Milo at the age of 21 years, was cause for great sorrow throughout the entire district, as deceased was well known in this district by hundreds of people, being employed in the Milo telephone exchange previous to her marriage.

Deceased leaves to mourn her loss her husband and a two-week-old son, her father, K. J. Vingie; four brothers, John, Alfred, Clarence and Saylmer, and two sisters, Agnes and Myrtle, all of Milo.

She was born in Omamee, near Grand Forks, N. D., and came to this district a number of years ago with her parents.

The funeral took place on Friday, the remains being entered in the Queenstown Lutheran cemetery.

Mr. Hoerle desires to express his most sincere thanks through the Call for the many kindnesses shown by many friends during his wife's illness and since her demise. He also acknowledges the following beautiful floral contributions with thanks:

Gleichen W. M. S. Hold Conundrum Tea

The Gleichen W. M. S. of the United Church held a "Conundrum Tea" at the Manse Friday afternoon which proved to be a great success, thanks to the fine support given by members of the congregation as well as other friends, and thanks to the splendid efforts put forth by the workers of the W.M.S. The most catching valentine decorations were artistically arranged throughout the rooms. The menu of the afternoon tea was all a riddle, conundrum and mystery to those ordering refreshments, causing much merriment and laughter. Financially the undertaking was very successful, beyond expectations. Mesdames Corcoran, Anderson and Evans were in charge of the tea. Mesdames Melvin, Wright Hutcheson and Hamar helped also a great deal on various committees. Music was supplied during the afternoon by Mrs. Hanli and Mrs. Cantelon in solo work as well as piano duets with Mrs. J. Robinson on the harmonica. Mrs. Hall and daughter Beatrice also rendered piano numbers. The men were remarkably conspicuous by their absence. Many thanks are expressed by the committee in charge to Mrs. R. W. Brown for her fine good-will in supplying tables for use at the tea. The executive also wishes to thank all those who have helped to make the event a success.

OLD DANCES REVIVED IN SCREEN COMEDY

Charlie Murray and Chester Conklin
Lead Chorus Girls in Old Fashioned Steps

Whoever says that the Charleston and its accompanying jazz steps are products of the present day hasn't talked with Edna Murphy, Dorothy Dwan and other pretty principals in "McFadden's Flats," to be seen in the Gleichen Community Saturday, Feb. 18th, for they are of the opinion that there was as much jazz a quarter of a century ago as today.

They base the statement on the dances that have been executed on the "McFadden's Flats" settings during the filming of the Picture. Such lifting pieces as "The Sidewalks of New York," "Sweet Rosie O'Grady" and others of the same period were played by the orchestra on the set and Director Richard Wallace permitted his players to spend their leisure time improvising new dances to them.

"Why, there's more jazz in those old songs than in many of the new ones," said Miss Murphy. "You can do any of the new steps to them, and with slight variations you can put more jazz into them than in the latest product of the newest of song writers."

If you've ever laughed your head off at an Irish-Scotch joke, imagine the fun you'll have at a picture that's a thousand jokes in one! With the funniest comedy combination the screen has known in years next Saturday night.

Mrs. Pinder who was far from well is now recovering nicely.

Mrs. Ostrander's foot is improving rapidly from the severe burn received a couple of weeks ago.

Chief Pilot Fox accompanied the 22nd Battery boys to the Hat Friday and proved a real mascot, while the Hillcrest negro mascot learned that a Blackfoot brave's silence was golden as compared with the colored hilarity.

After long continual balmy weather a hail storm struck here Saturday afternoon, followed by snow and a strong wind becoming quite a blizzard which lasted most of the night, but Sunday morning Old Sol was on the job bright and early and a light chinook wind followed. Sleighbells have improved and autos are still on the move.

GLEICHEN TRIMS HILLCREST 4-0 AT MEDICINE HAT

GLEICHEN GOES TO HIGH RIVER THURS. RETURN GAME SATURDAY NIGHT

(From Medicine Hat News) Gleichen defeated Hillcrest 4-0 at the Arena last Friday night in a sudden death game, thus qualifying to enter the next round of the Provincial Intermediate play-offs. The contest could not be called good hockey owing to the wet and sticky ice, but it was certainly a most exciting encounter. If the Hillcrest lads had been as strong in attack as they were in defense there might have been a different story to tell, but the Gleichen crew were faster skaters and worked better together than the boys from up the Crow and had the edge throughout the game. Wilson, the Gleichen goalie, had a much easier time than his vis-a-vis, not being called upon to handle many dangerous shots, most of the drives that came his way lacking steam. Makin, however, at the other end was kept busy, proved himself to be a real goal tender and pulled off some classy saves.

About six hundred fans took in the game and they were well rewarded for tuning out by witnessing a sternly-fought struggle. For two periods the game was touch and go, looking as if the team that was lucky enough to drive in a counter would come out ahead. Then two minutes before the end of the second canto Tiger Lyons lifted in a long one that found the net and the Gleichen fans went wild. In the closing period the Hillcrest boys were more aggressive but could not penetrate the Gleichen defence, while the Gleichen sharpshooters broke away and brought their tally up to four. Although they could outskate their opponents the Gleichen lads found it hard to evade the skilful back checking with which the Hillcrest players were very effective. The encounter was very clean, Referee Doll only finding it necessary to hand out one penalty, and that for holding.

First Period
The early part of the period was taken up with a ding-dong battle in which neither team could get the advantage, both being bothered by the sticky ice and the difficulty of controlling the puck. Lyons, Austin Wilson and Brown began to find themselves as the game went on and kept working towards the Hillcrest goal, but the elgyer checking of the defenders kept the Gleichen boys from getting close enough to menace Makin Rose, Richards and Dercole counter-attacked individually but were smothered by the Gleichen defence. Then the Gleichen crew got the upper hand and laid down a barrage on the Hillcrest goalie, but he took care of everything that came his way. End to end rushes brought the period to a close, with the score standing 0-0.

Second Period
The second chapter was a repetition of the first, the Hillcrest boys breaking-up the Gleichen attack with hard back checking, while Makin kept his net clear from the drives that were coming in from all sides. W. Makin made several sorties by himself and in combination with Dercole but they were blocked by Wilson and Johnston and their shots were either wide or so weak that Wilson had no difficulty in stopping them. Then after eighteen minutes Lyon tried a shot that whizzed past Makin. The Hillcrest boys came back hard in an effort to score, but without success.

Third Period
Gleichen renewed their pressure McKay sending in several dangerous shots, but Makin made some brilliant stops. The Gleichen combination was getting under way, Johnston, McKay and Brown repeatedly breaking through with the Hillcrest checking taking the sting out of the attack. 8 p.m.

After three minutes Johnston beat the whole team and chalked up another counter for Gleichen. Richards broke away but was high and Fletcher and Dercole made Wilson step out. Then Dercole, Fletcher and Rose kept the play at the Gleichen end; White kept plunging through with the puck when the Gleichen boys were robbed of the rubber as they tried to counter attack. After eleven minutes McKay and Brown got down, McKay took the pass and sent in a shot from close in and gave Makin no chance. They fought hard to beat the attack and camped round the Gleichen goal. They fought hard to beat the defence but the Gleichen lads worked just as strenuously to guard their net. Then Gleichen broke away but they were held in middle ice. McKay picked up a loose puck that had been batted back and forth for some time, and with only the goalie to beat sailed down the ice and netted the rubber. Hillcrest renewed their offensive and tried hard to tally but could not break into the score column.

BOARD OF TRADE HOLDS MEETING

Monday night there was a very good attendance at the regular Board of Trade meeting when business of importance was transacted, mostly dealing with good roads and tourist traffic. Mr. Arthur Baker, a representative of the Western Canada Good Roads Route Service Ltd. was present and gave an interesting talk in which he outlined briefly the work being accomplished throughout the Dominion and gave facts and figures of auto tourist travel in Canada, showing the local advantage of having the Trans Canada Highway passing through Gleichen. Mr. Baker also represents the Western Canada Motor Association and asked that the Gleichen Board of Trade affiliate with the motor association which it was decided should be done and the fee of $50 has since been raised by subscriptions.

Canada In 1927

We are now well launched into the new year of 1928, and it is possible to examine the completed story of Canada's progress and development in the year now ended.

It is the universally expressed opinion that the year which witnessed the Dominion's discordant public was one of the best years in Canada's history. It was a year unmarred by any great national disasters or epidemics; it was a year of fairly general prosperity; it was a year of national growth and of development along lines making for national unity and a better conception of Canada's future possibilities.

The Dominion is more highly regarded by our own people, and has attained to a higher place in the eyes of the whole world. The new status accorded the Dominions within the Empire has been productive of greater national pride and confidence which finds expression in a still greater determination to build stronger and better in the years to come. Not least among the factors adding to Canada's international position was the election of the Dominion to a seat on the Council of the League of Nations and the appointment of a Canadian Minister at Washington, and an American Minister at Ottawa.

Western Canada can justly claim credit for many of the things which have resulted in the improved position of the country as a whole. During the past five years it is conservatively estimated that the farmers of Western Canada have sold farm produce to a value of $2,000,000,000 at country points, and with the return of prosperity to the West, there has been a vast improvement in business everywhere. In a New Year's message, Sir Henry Dwyer-Lima declared that the gain of the year must be largely credited to agriculture and the extension of Canadian mining, and pulp, and paper industries. Western people have long contended that a successful and prosperous agriculture meant prosperity for all. The past year has demonstrated this.

One of the most noteworthy developments of the year has been the rapid increase of wealth produced from the mineral resources of the Dominion. Practically every province has experienced important developments in this respect, and no country in the world is now attracting quite so much interest, or inviting larger investments in this field of human activity. It is everywhere apparent that Canada is entering upon a new era in mining, and one which gives promises of adding enormously to the wealth of its people and providing employment for many thousands of workmen, not alone in mining itself but in all the allied industries and businesses, including transportation, which active mining operations bring about.

The trade and commerce of Canada has continued at a high level, with the Dominion occupying a position in the front rank of nations, and with a per capita trade higher than any country except New Zealand.

In the world of finance, Canada has been blessed with cheaper money for productive purposes than any country, except the United States. Taxation has been reduced, revenues have expanded, and surpluses in Governmental administration have taken the place of former deficits. Canada's ability to pay off over $50,000,000 of its national debt out of current income in 1927, is significant of the great change which has taken place in the last few years.

Western cities report a year of great building activity, a largely increased volume of bank clearings, growth in population, prompt payment of taxes, profitable operation of public utilities, and good business in almost every branch of commercial activity. Towns and rural municipalities present the same favorable report, an ever increasing number of the latter having liquidated their entire debt and indebtedness and otherwise decreased their liabilities and increased their assets.

Thus the old year closed with peace, contentment and prosperity prevailing throughout the Dominion, with a new confidence and courage manifesting itself throughout the Maritime Provinces, with activity general in the central eastern provinces, and with optimism prevailing in the West, coupled with well organized efforts to steadily advance its agricultural interests and development and with entirely new opportunities on a large scale developing in the north. Canadians can and are facing the new year with pride and confidence.

Has Already Netted Million

British Convict Ship On Exhibition In U.S. Still Draws Crowds

More than $1,000,000 has been made from the old British convict ship Succow, which was on exhibition in New York in 1921 and 1923, and since then has been on the American waterfront and rivers. Captain David Smith, owner of the vessel, said when he sailed for England in the White Star liner Cederic, that his property would probably keep drawing crowds until it rotted away. During the years it has been in the United States more than 20,000,000 people have paid to see it and the torture instruments it still carries. The decks where, for forty-seven years following its launch in 1790, convicts were punished, still carry the instruments now considered too terrible to use. The Succow is in Toledo now.

Motors In B.C.

A marked increase in the number of motor vehicles in use in British Columbia is seen in statistics compiled by the provincial police covering the first ten months of the year and showing 76,000 vehicles operating, as compared with 67,000 in 1926, and 11,639 ten years ago.

Export Of Binder Twine

Large Increase Is Shown In Shipments Made From Canada

A large increase in the export of binder twine from Canada took place in the first six months of the present fiscal year, the volume rising from 59,280 cwt. worth $742,735, to 140,299 cwt. worth $1,571,234. This increase is largely due to greater purchases from the United States, that country taking 66,860 cwt. worth $794,022, as against 25,450 cwt. worth $334,123, in the similar period of 1926. Russia also increased its purchases from 1,060 cwt. worth $11,872 in the six months of 1926, to 30,902 cwt. worth $310,359 in the same period of the present year.

Marvels Of Ingenuity

New Machines Can Make Ninety Bottles A Minute

The newest bottle making machines are marvels of ingenuity and efficiency. They are really automatic, although driven by electricity, and, strange to say, says a writer in Tit-Bits, they are the outcome of the revision of Mr. Francis Redfern, a solicitor with no previous experience in machine construction.

These machines, about 17ft. in diameter, and 15ft. in height, resemble a merry-go-round, and each has fifteen complete bottle-making units, revolving about a central column. The circle rotates alongside a vessel of molten glass, and as each unit passes it takes up sufficient material to make one bottle every revolution, when single moulds are used.

At six rounds per minute each machine can produce ninety bottles in that time, maintaining an output of over 5,000 an hour. With dual or triple moulds smaller bottles can be made at correspondingly higher rates.

The bottles may range from 2½ in. to 16in. in height and each a diameter of 7in. to 8in.; they may be of fifteen shapes and ten different capacities, and still be manufactured simultaneously by each machine.

Children Arrested For Murder

Nine Hundred Homeless Waifs In Russia Implicated In Slaying Of Italian Vice-Consul

Nine hundred homeless children have been arrested by police in Riga in connection with the murder of the aged Italian vice-consul, Kozio, who was beaten to death with stones and robbed by children on a dimly lighted street, according to the Riga correspondent of the Daily Mail.

Kozio's body was found December 27. He had been visiting a niece the night of the killing. At the time it was believed that bandits had killed and robbed him and children were not suspected. Even the gold filling in his teeth had been extracted by the robbers.

According to the Riga correspondent of the Daily Mail, whose report is not substantiated elsewhere, boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 16 attacked Kozio with stones, crushed his skull and rifled his pockets of $2,000. The police made the arrests after they had discovered Kozio's watch. A number of adults also have been arrested.

Erroneous Ideas About North

"Barren Waste" Within Arctic Circle Does Not Exist Says Stefansson

The glamor of the frozen Northlands and the heroism of the intrepid explorers of the Arctic were unmercifully rebuked at Hartford, Conn., by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, noted explorer and author.

In his lecture, Stefansson revealed that an igloo is an amazing sight to an Eskimo; that the latter, unless he is a circus freak, cannot and does not drink oil, that the annual snowfall at the North Pole has been exceeded by a single snowfall in Virginia; that the summer temperature within the Arctic circle averages 85 degrees and has occasionally approached 100 degrees in the shade.

Heartlessly he exposed the fact that Kentucky Blue-Grass grows in the most northerly part of the world, as do over about 850 varieties of flowering plants, in addition to spruce trees which measure over 100 feet in height.

Iceland, he said, is icy in name only. The temperature there in January is the same as that in Milan, Italy; and at the North Pole the lowest temperature experienced during the past 20 years was 55 degrees below zero, warmer by 13 degrees than parts of Montana in winter.

He prefaced his experiences with a rap at geographers who cram children with "misinformation which passes under the head of education in America."

Canada's Sheep Population

Canadian sheep population increased by 120,000 during 1927, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, the total standing at 3,262,706. The increase was outstanding in the case of Ontario, which added 67,784 to its numbers. In the Western Provinces sheep population increased by 71,282.

TO THE MOTHERS OF ALL PALE GIRLS

If Your Daughter Shows Signs Of Anaemia A Tonic Is Needed

Anaemia is simply a lack of blood. It is one of the most common and at the same time most dangerous troubles from which young girls suffer. It is common because the blood is so often becomes impoverished during development, when girls often overwork and overstudy. It is dangerous because of the stealthiness of its approach and because of its tendency to grow steadily worse. Every growing girl should occasionally take a tonic to ward off this insidious trouble. It is because of their powerful action in rebuilding the blood that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made a world-wide reputation. The case of Miss Claire Sullivan, Pincher Creek, Alta., amply proves the value of this medicine. Miss Sullivan says: "During my school days I suffered a great deal from thin and watery blood. I was continually weak and tired; my appetite was poor, my sleep unrefreshing and I was troubled with backaches. To make matters worse I was attacked with acute appendicitis and the operation left me in a very weakened state. My mother, learning of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, had me take them and after using them for some time I can say the result was simply wonderful, as they completely restored my health, and now when opportunity occurs I always recommend these pills to weak, pale girls suffering as I did."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The BABY

Why do so many, many babies of today escape all the little fretful spells and infantile ailments that used to worry mothers through the day, and keep them up half the night? If you don't know the answer, you haven't discovered pure, harmless Castoria. It is sweet to the taste, and sweet in the little stomach. And its gentle influence seems felt all through the tiny system. Not even a distasteful dose of castor oil does so much good.

Fletcher's Castoria is purely vegetable, so you may give it freely at first sign of colic, or constipation, or diarrhea. Or those many times when you just don't know what is the matter. For real sickness, call the doctor. Always. At other times, a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria.

The doctor often tells you to do just that; and always says Fletcher's. Other preparations may be just as pure, just as free from dangerous drugs, but why experiment? Besides, the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold!

Have Overcome Handicap

St. Dunstan's Annual Report Shows Amazing Results Attained By Blinded Soldiers

Of all the various schemes that were set on foot following the close of the war to aid the wounded soldier, none perhaps attracted so much attention and sympathetic interest as that which is designed to help the blind soldier to overcome his great handicap. The reason for this interest lies in the fact that men and women are wont to consider blindness the greatest tragedy that can overtake any person in the prime of life. It is remarkable, therefore, to read of the work that has been done with blinded soldiers at St. Dunstan's, London. The twelfth annual report of this institution has just been issued. St. Dunstan's was founded by the late Sir Arthur Pearson, himself blind, to aid the soldier who has been deprived of his eyesight and is obliged to seek another vocation in acquiring another trade if his great affliction had deprived him of the skill or power to take up again his former occupation. Since its foundation 2,265 officers and men have come under the care of the organization. The pages of the report, which is entitled, "While Memory Lives," provides moving and stimulating reading concerning the manner in which these ex-service men have risen above the affliction. It seems almost incredible that men should have fought and overcome their tragic handicap in such amazing fashion. Toronto Globe.

Pigeons Were Wise

Wary Birds Feast On Grain But Spurn Trap

The first day of London's municipal offensive against the pigeons inhabiting the neighborhood of St. Paul's Cathedral ended in an unqualified victory for the pigeons.

Some time it was decided to thin out these birds and a contract was awarded to William Dalton, famous rat catcher. For three weeks Dalton and his assistants have been feeding the pigeons in order to become familiar with them. Recently they appeared with a large cage of wire netting and a plentiful supply of grain. The pigeons ate up all the grain scattered about St. Paul's portico, but not a single bird entered the cage. Dalton, finally deciding that the cockney pigeons are wise birds, retired to think up a new strategy.

Switzerland Finds Ready Market For Cleverly Constructed Devices

Switzerland hasn't coal, copper or oil, and its iron deposits are not available. It has to go away from home for wool, cotton and foodstuffs, but it converts the raw material it buys into so many clever and ingeniously constructed devices that it never has any trouble to find ready markets. Swiss watches, embroideries, silk, carvings, music boxes, and milk chocolates are known the world over. The Swiss have harnessed the rivers that tumble from their mountains and have cheaper electricity and make more use of it than can be boasted of their neighbors. Through all the troublous times resulting from the Great War, they kept their currency at par and sometimes at premium. Their standard of living is above the average and as good as any, and their school system is world renowned.

All of which seems to demonstrate that good sense and a peaceful disposition are worth more than wide territory and natural resources to a people.

Every careful and observant mother knows when her child suffers from worms. She also knows that if some remedy be not speedily applied much harm will result to the infant. An excellent preparation for this purpose is Miller's Worm Powders. They drive worms from the system and set up stimulating and soothing effects, so that the child's progress thereafter is painless and satisfying.

Time To Advocate Peace

After every great war there is a period of almost complete safety, when the nations are too crippled and too weary to fight again. During that period — and we are living in such a period now — every rational experiment in building up a new machinery of peace ought to be tried. If the experiments fail and new generations arise not averse from war, then it will clearly be necessary for the nation to defend itself on the old terms and in the old way.

Had Race With American For Complete Collection Of Famous Prints

As a result of the neck-and-neck race between an American and an Englishman, neither of whose names has so far been disclosed, a complete collection of famous prints, illustrating the street cries of London, is now on exhibition at the Ackerman Galleries here for the first time in over a century.

The Englishman won by a few hours and the collection, valued at $25,000 (about $125,000), will remain in that country. Even the British Museum contains only thirteen of these rare prints.

Excellent For Croupy Children.

When a child is suffering with croup it is a good plan to use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It reduces the inflammation and loosens the phlegm giving speedy relief to the little sufferer. It is equally reliable for sore throat and chest, carache, rheumatic pains, cuts, bruises and sprains. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is regarded by many thousands as an indispensable of the family medicine chest.

An Excellent Name

The founder of Medicine Hat is dead and a morning contemporary expresses the hope that he was not responsible for the name of the place. But is it not an excellent name for a town? The newspaper paragraphs of the world know the name of that town even if they forget the names of all others in the west. It is striking, unusual, different, and we hope Medicine Hat will always stick to its name — until its population passes the million mark.

When Pain Comes

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food soured. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. CHAPTER XVI.—Continued.

"Go easy on the Finns, Captain," said Jack, laughing. "I am about to marry one."

Mr. Blackwood gave Helmi a long insolent stare, before which her eyes fell. Were all magistrates cross old men? Were they angry at her because she came from another country?

"You'll need to keep her in her place, young man; she has the eyes of a broncho. They are a high-tempered, murderous lot, the Finns, fighting, stabbing, shooting."

"We're in a hurry, Captain," said Jack, still unruffled; "so if you will get along with the business now we will be very glad. I have the license here."

The old man put on a pair of smeared glasses and began to hunt through the incredible turmoil on his table, looking for the necessary papers, swearing as he drew out each handful that failed to reveal the proper forms. Someone had been interfering; he never could leave anything and find it again; they had been here yesterday or the day before. If people would only leave his things alone! he would set a trap among his papers, and he hoped it would cut their damned fingers off.

Mr. Blackwood went to the cupboard, took out a teacup, poured himself a drink from a brown bottle, and made another attempt. After a second drink he found what he wanted.

Helmi hung to Jack's arm, terrified. "I don't like it," she said, "bad luck it will bring—it is so smutty—dirty and bad. He is drunken, come away—we will go to another one—I wish we could get married nice way."

Jack tried to reassure her.

"Show me the license," the magistrate said, swinging around in his chair.

Jack unfolded it and put it in his hands.

The magistrate read the names aloud—John Ward Doran and Helmi Milander.

"Milander—Milander?" He looked up suddenly and regarded Helmi more closely.

Again her eyes fell.

Then he turned to Jack. "I would like to speak to you alone," he said, "it Miss Milander will step outside."

Helmi went out, glad to be out of the foul air and away from the scrutiny of the old man's eyes, which reminded her uncomfortably of the only other magistrate she had ever seen.

"Mr. Doran, I take it you are a Canadian?"

Jack nodded.

"And an educated man—a college man perhaps?"

"I put three years at Queen," Jack said.

"Now you propose to marry this Finnish girl?"

world, having worked with gangs of men who spoke of their carousals without shame, but he had always been repelled by the coarseness, the vulgarity of it all. It couldn't be—Helmi was as sweet and pure as a prairie flower. If she was arrested it was some rotten mistake. No, he would not turn her down.

"Is it her picture, do you think?" asked the magistrate, coolly.

"I am not sure," said Jack, "it's a young girl of Nordic type, dressed as they all dress. I never saw my girl wear these clothes."

Jack read the words again, and then handed the paper back. He had taken his resolve. "Now, you've done your duty," he said, trying to speak calmly, "I am going to marry Helmi Milander, and if you ever show this paper to anyone and try to injure my wife, I will come back and deal with you—old man though you are. Now, get your book, or whatever you go by, and come outside; the atmosphere of this house is hardly right for a wedding."

Jack had never felt such a need for fresh air—another minute in this foul place would smother him.

Outside, with the afternoon sun shining on them, and a wind from the pass blowing the leaves of paper the magistrate held in his hand, they made their vows according to the bald rites of civil marriage. Jack could not afterwards remember what he said. He only knew he had a great desire to take Helmi in his arms and protect her from every evil thing in the world.

When they began the drive home the sun had gone behind the mountains. As the early chill of evening came down upon them Helmi was silent and distressed. She knew there was something wrong. The magistrate was her enemy like the other one. Why were they all so cross to her? She determined to ask Jack.

"Why did he not want to marry me?" she asked, when they had reached the top of the hill and stopped to look back at the little town, which would soon be blotted out by the purpling dusk.

Could Learn From Canada

British Newspaper Man Writes Of Class Distinction In England

Mr. Carey Lord, one of the British newspapermen's party, who toured Canada last summer, has recorded his impressions in a series of articles in the Advertiser and Times, of Clitheroe, Lancashire. In one article he says:

"There are few or no class distinctions in Canada. At St. John I heard one call another 'Tom' in a most familiar way, and Tom who laughingly answered was a member of Parliament, and the man who addressed him a menial in the hotel below the rank of waiter. At another city a gentleman on my right at dinner told me he could not live in England again because it still maintained its class distinctions. The gentleman on my left had only just told me my neighbor on the right was reputed to be worth twenty million dollars. Half the 'reputed' figure and he was yet a millionaire twice over in sterling and he had only to return to England and give an odd hundred thousand to a hospital and he could command a peerage—a passport to the highest society. This is an object lesson to Britain, where traditions die hard. If the imaginary somebodies in our country could forget their imaginary class superiority they would do more to check the present-day tendency toward Bolshevism than all the anti-Bolshevik agencies they have already set up or are ever likely to set up."

"Yes, sir, I am going to marry Helmi Milander honestly and legally. If you do not want to do it we can go to someone else."

"I'll marry you, all right, but before that I want to show you something. You have been very impertinent to me, but nevertheless I want to be fair to you anyway—and I am doing for you what I would want someone to do for my boy if I had one. Perhaps you would be interested to look at this."

Without any difficulty at all in finding what he wanted, he went to the wall, where, on a huge spike, pages of newspapers were impaled. He searched through them for a moment and then returned to Jack and placed in his hand a page of a Winnipeg paper. Jack took it, wondering.

"Read this," said the older man, triumphantly, "and then tell me if you still want to go on. We keep a file of police happenings and find them very interesting."

Helmi's face looked at him from the page. "Arrested in a Chinese den a year ago—escaped yesterday from the Girls' Friendly Home," Jack read the words aloud before he was able to grasp their meaning. He read every word of it, though the words seemed to be made of fire that burned him. Even the Magistrate was sorry for him.

"It's a damn lie!" broke from his lips; "it's a horrible mistake! See, it's the same name—that's all. If it were my Helmi wouldn't she have changed her name when she came here? She wouldn't be fool enough to go on under the same name."

Jack knew that Helmi did not talk of her life in Winnipeg, though it came out one day that she had been there a year; and the date of the escape recorded here corresponded with the time she came to Eagle Mines.

Jack's throat was dry and his soul sick within him, but to believe that of Helmi! He couldn't. He wouldn't. There were no dark chapters in the boy's own life. He had lived the clean, active life of a decent fun-loving youth. He knew of the evils in the

WHEAT FUTURE OF CANADA

Dominion Likely To Retain First Position For Indefinite Period

With the United States, to all appearance, definitely eliminated from the field of competitive wheat exporting, the dominant position the Dominion has attained is likely to remain unchallenged for an indefinite period. In days before the war Russia divided production supremacy with the United States, but agriculture under Soviet control is still far from the position it then held and has cut little figure in the European grain market. The wheat situation as it then existed was recently and strikingly presented in comparative figures prepared by Sir Henry Rew, of London, an eminent British authority. Before the war, he stated, wheat came mainly from seven sources: 24 per cent. from Russia, 13 per cent. from Argentina, 11 per cent. from Canada, 8 per cent. from the United States, 7 per cent. from each of India and Rumania, and 6 per cent. from Australia. Last year's figures were: Canada, 52 per cent.; Argentina, 16 per cent.; United States, 14 per cent.; Australia, 10 per cent.; Hungary, Yugoslavia, India, Algeria and Rumania each contributing minor amounts. With the elimination of Russia, dominance rests with Canada, and the wheat trade is concentrated in fewer countries.

These percentages have been accepted as accurate by the Dominion Government and are being circulated with its imprimatur. Canada has proved in the best of all tests, that of practical experience, that she possesses the best land in the world for the highest grade of hard wheat, and the success of her farmers in wheat growing has been a powerful magnet attracting farmers from other countries.

Proposed Concrete Highway

New Highway Between Calgary and Banff May Be Built This Year

Construction of a 24 foot wide solid concrete toll highway between Calgary and Banff will be undertaken early this year if the Alberta Legislature will grant the necessary charter, according to an announcement made by Daniel F. Whitney, president of the Alberta Hotel Association and director of the Alberta Motor Association.

The work will be undertaken by the Trackways Company Limited, the incorporation papers of which are under preparation. While the company will be incorporated for $1,000,000, it is proposed to finance the construction of the highway by means of bond issues.

The mileage of the road will be approximately 70 and will probably traverse the area of the south side of the Bow River for a large part of the distance. The approximate cost of the highway would be $2,450,000 on the basis of $35,000 per mile for 70 miles.

The company also intends to apply for charters to build similar highways from Calgary to Edmonton, Calgary to Lethbridge, Calgary to Macleod, and straight through to Coult.

Origin Of Christmas Lights

FIND LASH A MOST EFFECTIVE WEAPON

Men Committing Crimes Of Violence Have Dread Of Lash

Canada is becoming one of the most unhealthy places in the world for professional criminals, according to the current issue of the Canadian Police Bulletin, which analysis the effectiveness of punishment methods now in vogue throughout the Dominion.

The lash is the best weapon which Canadian justice has found in its war on crime.

"All over the country," says the Bulletin, "criminal court judges are making it quite clear that crimes of violence are to be rewarded not only by long imprisonment, but by that which all criminals dread—the lash. In Montreal, it is reported, Judge Perrault sentenced two men charged with robbery with violence to terms in the penitentiary and to receive twelve lashes each."

"The biggest of the two broke down and sobbed convulsively when he heard that he was to be whipped," the article states. "But he had no compunction whatever about the injuries he inflicted upon the man he robbed and showed great cunning in luring him to a place where he could be maltreated."

Summing up the situation, the Bulletin says:

"There is a unanimity of action about this which suggests that the men who are sworn to administer the law impartially believe that the hardened criminal should not be coddled."

"And it is not necessarily the man who has been convicted of several offenses who is a hardened criminal. It is obvious that there is a growing class of men, most of them young, some of them mere youths, who are determined that they will take what they want by force. To them murder is a secondary consideration, the honor of a woman nothing, the attainment of the wishes and desires, by any means, everything."

"To that state of mind there can only be one answer for the protection of the great majority of law abiding citizenhood in the state. That it is being given, promptly, effectively and with a due regard for a fair show for those whose conduct makes it necessary, must be a source of gratification to those who do not want to see this country Chicagoized."

"I was unable to go about, and could not do my housework."

"I would get dizzy spells and would have to go and lie down."

"I could not sleep at night as the least little noise would wake me up."

"I tried different kinds of medicine, but they seemed to do me no good."

Novel Fire Alarms

Loud Speakers Have Been Installed In Streets Of Edinburgh

Novel loud speaker fire alarms have been installed in the streets of Edinburgh.

Any one wishing to report a fire breaks the glass and immediately the door opens disclosing two apertures. Above one is painted the words "Wait, Fireman will speak" and above the other, "Reply Here." The breaking of the glass also rings an alarm bell in a fire station duty room.

Although the fireman replies through an ordinary telephone transmitter his voice can be heard 12 feet from the alarm box. When the fireman answers the persons reporting the fire gives the exact location.

Police and ambulance calls also are sendable through the fire-boxes. One advantage of the new system, it is said, is that it reduces temptation to send in false alarms.

Will Keep Its Place

No Danger Of White Race Being Dominated By Other Races

Dr. A. Herdlicka, specialist in physical anthropology at National Museum in Washington, believes the white race should continue to hold its own with all other races.

"If some cataclysm of general epidemic should befall it," he said, "it would go the way of all races so afflicted and sink to a secondary position. But unless this should occur, the white race, despite the howls of those who predict that the rising tide of color will sweep all before it, will stand well to the fore."

The great advance of evolution in the future, Dr. Herdlicka asserted, will be in mentality.

A London bookbinding firm is expending $25,000 in the design and construction of covers for 15 volumes of "The Lives and Times of the Popes," to the order of Thomas Madigan, of New York.

Rubies, sapphires, ivory, silk, scarlet leather, morocco and heavy gilding all go into the ornamentation of each volume.

A year's steady labor has produced only four volumes, of which only one has been forwarded to New York. The volumes include 30 of the original Papal bulls.

A Worthless Souvenir

Sir Robert Horn tells a good story of an author who was attending the first performance of his new play. It was not a success. In fact, to put it plainly, it was a dismal failure—and it deserved to be.

At the end of the last act a lady seated immediately behind the unhappy playwright tapped him on the shoulder and, placing something in his hand, remarked:

"I recognized you when you came in and cut off a lock of your hair. You may have it back!"

Galileo dropped a half pound weight and a 100 pound cannon ball from the Leaning Tower of Pisa, and demonstrated to an incredulous world that the two would fall at the same speed.

PETER MACLEAN,
Secretary-Treasurer,

When business men are afraid to advertise the price of their wares lest their opposition cut prices, the lack of co-operation is deplorable and it is little wonder their customers seek to do business elsewhere.

Tons of mail order catalogues are being distributed throughout this district at present and yet our local merchants are making no effort to combat the evil. Why wait until the damage is done—prevention is better than a cure.

In the report of St. Andrew's Church parochial meeting last issue several names were left out of the vestry committee. The following is the corrected list: Messrs. Pinder, C. W. Harrison, Goodwin, Owen, T. W. Bates Jr., McConnell, Brown McCallum and Major Lewis.

A fan says at the Hat Friday night he overheard a couple from Hillcrest consoling themselves with: "How could our boys expect to win from those Gleichen soldiers. They do nothing in winter but play hockey to keep in training." That's a new one on the 22nd boys.

The Call has received from Mr. and Mrs. Michael a box of pussy-willows and cedar branches gathered from their property in Vancouver, where they are spending a vacation. This is very thoughtful of our good friends and highly appreciated. We invite readers to drop in at the Call and take a whiff—it makes one long for the sloppy coast.

M. Bolinger has purchased the widest seed-drill made in the world to-day from W. Sutermeister, a 33-run Massey-Harris drill, which is exactly one rod wide. It will seed 2 acres per mile or being pulled by a tractor will seed nearly 100 acres a day. It has been ordered directly from the factory as there are only a few available this year.

Recognizing her brother in a picture in the photograph section of a New York paper of the annual stampede in Calgary, Mrs. E. A memorial service in honor of the late Grand President of the British Empire Service League, Field Marshall Earl Douglas Haig, was held in the Gleichen Community Hall on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. F. M. Gibney, chaplain of the local branch of the Legion, was in charge of the service. President Sergt. Tomlinson, of the R.C.M.P., being engaged in Brooks, Capt. Maclean also occupied a chair on the platform, acting for the president. The 22nd Battery C.F.A. was present in uniform and many of the citizens also attended. Rev. C. R. Corcoran of the Gleichen United Church had been invited to the service but owing to illness was prevented from being present. J. Eglesie played the piano in accompaniment of the hymns. Rev. Gibney paid the highest tribute to the great life work accompanied by Field Marshall Haig in an interesting address and in silence the deceased was highly honored by all present.
